At a time when women are increasingly making their voices heard in arenas across the American spectrum, many clergywomen and women that sit on investment committees are seeking opportunities to use their church endowments to positively impact society.

Can your church realize a competitive return and pursue active social engagement? The answer is yes. The Ministerial Excellence, Support and Authorization and United Church Funds (UCF) invite you to join us in exploring this timely subject in a webinar.

What we will cover:

- The importance of socially responsible investing (SRI)
- How UCF enables churches to align and integrate their faith and values while growing their endowment

Please feel free to share this invitation with your colleagues and others who might be interested.

About United Church Funds

United Church Funds is a full-service investment manager with over $825 million in assets under management. For more than 100 years, UCF has been supporting the missions of United Church of Christ churches, ministries, and faith-based organizations.

About Ministerial Excellence, Support and Authorization Team

The Ministerial Excellence, Support and Authorization Team of the United Church of Christ endeavors to support authorized ministers throughout their arc of ministry. MESA works closely with Conferences, Associations and Committees on Ministry to provide assistance and best practices related to ministry in the UCC. In 2014 MESA helped to launch the Antoinette Brown Society which strives for the day when UCC clergywomen's innovative leadership is the norm, not the exception.
